Athletic Board Asks Parents To Be Guests

Thirty-five parents of football players have announced their intentions to accept the Parents' day invitation of Athletic board to be guests at the Montana Grizzly-Texas Tech Red Raider football game Saturday, October 12, John Campbell, director of the Athletic New bureau, announced yesterday.

Parents are requested to register at the Student Union building where an identification football badge corresponding to their son's football number will be given to them.

Parents will be guests of Athletic board at a pre-game luncheon Saturday noon. During the luncheon parents will have a chance to become acquainted with one another and to meet Dr. George F. Simmons, president of the university; Burly Miller, dean of men; Mary Elrod Ferguson, dean of women; Doug Fessenden, head football coach; Grace Johnson, Student Union manager; Kirk Badgley, graduate athletic manager; Rae Greene, student body president, and others.

At 1:30 o'clock parents will leave for the stadium and will sit in a group on the east side. A recognition program at halftime will honor the parents.

Campbell Urges Students

John Campbell urges all students to invite their parents to the game. Special tickets may be obtained from Mel Rawn at the Student Union business office by presentation of activity cards, which will allow students to sit with their parents in a special section on the east side.

John Kujich, chairman of Traditions board, urges students to invite their parents to be present at the noise rally and bonfire Friday night.

Football players' parents who are attending are Mr. and Mrs. Ed C. Jones, Livingston; Mr. and Mrs. C. Jones, Livingston; Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Duncan, Helena; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson, Missoula; Mr. and Mrs. John Mufich, Butte; Dean and Mrs. C. W. Leapheart, Missoula; Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Hickock, Nashua; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bryan, Kalispell; Mrs. Sylvia Duffy, Butte; Mr. and Mrs. John Brauer, Missoula; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Swarthout, Prosser, Washington. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Robertson, Floweree; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sparks, Butte; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walters, Billings; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dahmer, Havre; Mr. and Mrs. George Kern, Livingston; Mr. and Mrs. William F. Edwards, Butte, and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Daems, Bozeman. Leonard "Belgian" Daems was a guard on the 1912, 1913, 1914 and 1915 teams. The Grizzlies were undefeated in 1914, and Daems was captain of the 1915 team.

Washington State Game Rally Begins At 2 o'Clock

The pep rally for the Washington State college game will start promptly at 2 o'clock this afternoon in front of Main hall, John Kujich, Great Falls, traditions chairman, announced this morning. President George Finlay Simmons asked faculty members to excuse students from 2 to 4 o'clock classes to enable them to attend the rally.

A corps of 25 women baton twirlers, directed by Drum Major Jack McGuinn, Harlowton, will lead the rally, followed by the Grizzly band, newly inspired by the addition of co-ed musicians. Yell kings will lead the rooters down University avenue, up Gerald to Sixth street and then up Higgins avenue to the Northern Pacific station.

Kujich said he expects this first pep rally to be a high point of the year. Unless there is a large student turnout, classes will not be excused for football rallies in the future, according to information from the president's office.

The suggestion that the faculty cooperate to permit students to participate in today's football rally came from the president's office in the form of mimeographed notice to faculty members. The Kaimin inadvertently reported the deans' conference as originating the action.

New Spur Pledges Learn Tough Song

Weird sounds issuing from the Eloise Knowles room in the Student Union Wednesday night proved, upon investigation, to be nothing more than Spurs teaching their new pledges the Spur marching song.

This song, which the pledges must learn before initiation, presents slightly difficult problems in harmonics, especially when sung without accompaniment. Under the uncertain, but enthusiastic, tutorship of the predecessors, however, the neophytes plan to startle the campus sometime in the future by a public presentation of the ditty.

Phone Girl Plugs For Personal Plug

Doris Kemp, freshman switchboard operator from Wolf Point, stopped plugging the switchboard long enough yesterday to plug for publicity.

"University," Doris said into the mouthpiece, answering the flash of the little red light from the Kaimin editor's phone.

"Could you tell me the first name of a freshman from Wolf Point whose last name is Kemp?" the voice buzzed in her ear.

Her heart skipped a beat. "D-D-D-Doris," she stammered. Then in her excitement disconnected the line.

A few moments later, the editor's phone rang and a masculine voice said, "Editor's office."

"What are you going to say about me?" she asked hopefully.

Then—the horrible truth. The fellow on the phone was Pete Kamps, who was previously introduced to Doris but forgot her first name. He had to find out somehow.

Millage Issue Up for Vote

Two measures which may vitally affect state-supported higher education in Montana will be voted upon November 5 at the general election. The proposed legislation concerns the six units of the Greater University of Montana, Eastern Montana Normal school at Billings, Montana State college at Bozeman, Montana School of Mines at Butte, Montana Normal college at Dillon, Northern Montana college at Havre and Montana State university.

Referendum 42 provides for the renewal of the present three-mill tax for the greater university and for an additional half-mill levy on each dollar of taxable valuation. Because the assessed valuation of land has decreased, the half-mill is added, say proponents of the measure. Should the referendum pass, it will be limited to 10 years, as were the similar referendums preceding it.

Initiative 44 provides for a bond issue on three buildings for Montana State college, a new library, an enlarged chemistry building and a new mathematics-physics building.

Professor W. F. Brewer of Montana State college is head of the Montana Greater University funds campaign. The campaign organization in Missoula is led by Don Foss, president of the Alumni association of Montana State university.

Dancing Lessons To Begin Tuesday

University men and women who have forgotten the second step of the rumba or who did not learn the first step of the waltz can rectify their shortcomings under the tutelage of the DeRea School of Dancing.

Grace Johnson, Student Union manager, announced today that the first class in ballroom dancing will meet in the Copper room at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

A series of eight lessons will be given covering the regulation dances, said Miss Johnson.

Church Party Is Acclaimed Big Success

First All-Denomination Gathering in History Of University

Montana added her page to the annals of religious achievement last night with the first all-denomination church party in university history. More than 400 students representing every creed and doctrine on the campus were present, and many more with "no definite faith" attended.

"We had about all we could take care of in the Gold room," reported Rev. Harvey Baty, director of the School of Religion.

Most of the evening was taken up with novel "get-acquainted" games, which were well adapted to large crowds. Students danced, made faces at each other, and even proposed to each other, all in informal fun, and groups sang nursery rhymes, passed life-savers on toothpicks, and each student shouted his neighbor's name, to keep from being "it."

This party, which was sponsored by Rev. Baty, Inter-church council and the Student Union, replaced the individual church parties held in former years. Rev. Baty said that this party was so successful that there may be a similar party next year.

Males Turn Into Females in Mail

Graduation from MSU does not involve any great physical change — at least none great enough to justify a change of address from Mr. to Miss, biology professors have agreed.

"Turnabout" victims this week include Don Bartsch, alias Miss Donna Bartsch, former editor of the Kaimin, and D. J. Shults, '33, alias Miss Dosia J. Shults, now publisher of the Pioneer Press in Mott, N. D.

Shults insists to the University News Bulletin that its mailing list alteration does not change his loyalty to the university.

Bartsch, victim of a Social Security mailing list error, trots his masculinity about in the employ of the Montana Record-Herald of Helena. Journalism friends suggest that Bartsch may be laying the groundwork for dependent mothers' aid from social security funds.

CAA Officials Shout 'Contact' For 21 Flyers

Advanced Students to Sign Pledge for More Flight Training

Twenty-one university students who have completed primary flight training offered by the Civil Aeronautics Authority have been recommended for advanced corps training, Dr. A. S. Merrill, director, was notified today.

Men accepted for advanced training according to Washington, D. C., officials, are Burton C. Hallett, Glasgow; J. Hilbert Hanson, Polson; Lynn Rae Ingersoll, Miles City; Victor Johnson, Philipsburg; Habert E. Underwood, Missoula; Robert Waltermire, Missoula; William Yaggy, Hays, Kansas; Don Beck, Deer Lodge; Fred Bedard, Missoula; Glenn Cameron, Chicago, Ill.; Glen Cox, Shelby; George Croonenberghs, Missoula; Sidney Groff, Victor; Arthur Mertz, Missoula; Sam Parker, Butte; Sam Roberts, Helena; Warren Lemp; James Scanlon, Miles City; Malcolm Severy, Missoula, and James Sykes, Livingston.

Newly imposed CAA restrictions require that advanced corps students be citizens of the United States, pledge themselves to further training for military service if needed and pass stiff physical examinations. Fifteen advanced corps students completed flight training here during the summer session.

Sentinel Staff Numbers 35 Says Millar

Approximately 35 students are engaged in work on the 1941 Sentinel. The full staff will continue work until about November 1, when the 15 outstanding and best qualified workers will be retained for future staff duties, Walt Millar, Butte, editor, said yesterday.

Layout construction and reproduction is occupying much of the staff's time at the present. This phase of yearbook construction will continue until October 15, after which time hours will be devoted to checking fraternity and sorority pictures and writing copy, said Millar.

"This year's annual promises something new in layout and design," Millar said. A new type cover and a new approach on athletics and classes is being considered by the editor.

Unless well qualified in some department of yearbook work, students need not apply for work on the 1941 Sentinel, stated Millar.

Masquer Date Hop Scheduled Tonight

The first date dance of the season, sponsored by the Masquers, will take place in the Gold room of the Student Union building tonight. The dance, an annual affair, will start after the last performance of "Hay Fever" in the Salon theater. Bob Langen's orchestra will play.

Special tickets, admitting students to both the play and the dance, as well as single-admission tickets, are on sale at the Students' store.

GRADE POINTS HELP TO WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

Some time next summer about 50 university scholarships will be awarded which will exempt students who receive them from paying registration and incidental fees for a year. Each is worth about $45.

These awards are made annually by the deans' conference upon recommendations of department or school heads, and are granted upon the basis of ability, character and promise. A student must have a grade point index of at least 2.00 on a minimum of 40 credits for a year's work to be considered for an award.

As only 5 per cent of the students in regular attendance, above the freshman year, are awarded scholarships, a student who wins one must have a high grade point index. One hundred seventy-five students were eligible for consideration this year; 53 received awards.

A student who intends to win a scholarship had better "hit the books"—he will have plenty of competition.

Footballers Play WSC Tomorrow

Grizzlies Leave by Rail
For Pullman Today;
Coach Says Nothing

The Montana State university football team will be out to save a rankling tomorrow afternoon at Pullman when they tackle Washington State college. Only once have the Grizzlies whipped the Cougars, 'way back in 1914 when Montana prowled the gridiron undefeated. WSC and the university met last in 1936, the university losing 19-0. They made a strong bid until the final quarter when a lack of reserve power spelled defeat for the Montanamen.

Doug Fessenden won't comment on the outcome of the game Saturday. He has been shuffling his team around trying to find a winning combination and triple-threat backs may plug the guard holes. Fessenden hasn't announced a starting lineup as yet and intimated that he will use many reserves. A wide-open offense will characterize the Grizzly attack, with passes and trick plays, and from all indications Hollingbery, Washington mentor, will employ the same style of play.

Swarthout in Backfield

Montana's starting backfield will likely include Jack Swarthout, Eso Naranche, Bob Sparks and Don Bryan. Swarthout has been moved into the backfield from end in an attempt to give the Grizzly ball-lugging department a climax runner. If Naranche can shake his injury jinx his powerhouse tactics may turn the tide favorably. Dependable and aggressive Bob Sparks will be counted on to give the Cougars plenty of trouble from the fullback position and "Red" Bryan will be winging passes and booting the ball.

Karl Fiske showed great improvement this week. Fiske will be included in a second backfield combination with Emigh, Jones and Farmer, and this foursome may see as much action as the first outfit. John Reagan and Roy Strom can be shoved into either backfield if necessary.

Hall Shines in Line

Fessenden says big Bill (Biff) Hall is coming along nicely and will probably win the starting center assignment from rugged Henry (Dutch) Dahmer and aggressive but lighter John Dratz. "Biff" has been showing well in recent scrimmages in backing up the line.

Fred Brauer, running guard, is ready for heavy duty again after being out a week with a wrenched back. John Lutz, who sprained an ankle, should be fit for action at guard, according to Trainer Naseby Rhinehart. It is expected that John Page, Hugh Edwards, Bill Wheeler and Bill Robertson will be given a crack at the guard posts. Teddy Walters is still out with a broken foot but is expected back next week before the Texas Tech game.

Captain Tom O'Donnell and Gene Clawson will probably start

I'm Right---You're Wrong

BY K. KIZER

Just as soon as the Grizzlies start hitting the rails for California and Oregon, Interfraternity touchball keeps the campus pigskin-minded over in the Clover bowl behind the library, the most hotly contested of all intramural sports. Greek followers and teams are hooting it up and down on fraternity row already, trying to drum into the head of that pledge from Pitchfork Point that a passed ball is to catch, not to bobble.

Last year the Phi Sigs won the cup over the SAEs in a close game to end the intramural play. The season was climaxed by the Clover Bowl classic, annual charity game, between the pledges of Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi. Proceeds of the game went to the National Red Cross, plus a keg of brew to the Sigma Nu's, winners in a 7-0 game. The Phi Delt and Sigma Chi's, runners-up in the league last year, are already practicing in adjoining vacant lots and it looks like it might be another season to keep Doc Hesdorffer and the Health Service pretty busy.

Montana's new suits came at last! The first shipment of the grid uniforms was sort of a bum steer. Pinhead Emigh couldn't even squeeze into Gene Clawson's outfit, so Doug Fessenden sent 'em back. But they are here now, and Montana will literally be the Silver Shirts against the Cougar club tomorrow. Jerseys are silver with maroon numbers and stripes on sleeves, while the pants are silver with maroon elastic stripes down the outside of the legs. Silver headgear tops them off.

This corner dropped two, called one upset and won out on the 14 remaining games minus one tie, last Saturday. So here we go again out on that shaky limb: Alabama over Mercer, Harvard over Amherst, Army over Williams college, Utah over BYU, California over St. Mary's, UCLA over Santa Clara, Centenary over Rice, Cornell over at tackles, bolstered by John Duncan and Tom Duffy, with Neil Johnson and Coley Vaughn likely getting the end assignments, backed up by Bill Mufich and pass-snagging Roy Gustafson.

Sewell Outstanding

In the Washington State backfield Bill Sewell, rated one of the classiest backs on the coast; Dale Holmes, Dick Renfro and Don Greeley will probably start, while Earle Smith, center; Tom Brannigan and Milford Collins, guards; Joe Beckman and Stan Johnson, tackles, and Dale Gentry and Herb Godfrey, ends, a forward wall which stemmed the rush of the over-rated Southern California line last week, will likely start.

Our bright alumnus is out in the world today—a man who could have given orders, he is taking them.

Sure, it seems far-fetched, but you'll be surprised what a great big difference it makes in your grades to carry a sure-fire pen like the Parker Sacless Vacumatic.
